

Training Materials

Training materials on the prevention of gender-based violence in academic and research environments were developed as part of a project supported by the Norway Grants.

The materials include ten publicly available training videos covering topics such as gender bias in academia, sexual harassment in research and academic environments, the gender dimension in research, and the economic aspects of gender inequality.

The videos are divided into two training packages: one for employees of academic and research institutions and the other for members of selection and evaluation committees. They can also be used as educational materials for students and other organisations working on gender equality and related topics.
